CODE OF CONDUCT

Revised through 11 April, 2005

Every person participating in Canadian Snowboard Federation activities shall adhere to the following general principles of conduct:

- ☞ Dress neatly and in a manner appropriate to the occasion
- ☞ Refrain from becoming, or giving the appearance of being, intoxicated
- ☞ Refrain from threatening and/or abusive language and behaviour
- ☞ Speak to competition officials in a constructive manner, and make any appeals through proper channels only
- ☞ Recognize the paramount need for safety and refrain from horseplay or reckless activity.
- ☞ Respect other persons, public and private property, and the rules, regulations, and norms of conduct on public occasions.
- ☞ Refrain from possessing, using, or encouraging the use of illegal substances such as marijuana, hashish, and cocaine.
- ☞ Refrain from entering into a romantic relationship with another person in the sport where that relationship may be seen as creating a conflict of interest (e.g. a relationship between an coach and an athlete or an athlete and a judge).

Every person shall recognize these general principles as representing minimum standards of conduct.

Every person shall recognize that he or she is publicly viewed as being a representative of Canada and the CSF even when not acting in any official capacity, and shall govern him or herself accordingly at all times.

Every person acknowledges that any breach of the CSF Code of Conduct may result in disciplinary measures.
