Priority will be given to athletes ranked through the National Team Pathway, followed by those from the NextGen Pathway. Any gaps or discrepancies between the pathways will be discussed by the selection committee during the selection process. In cases where there is a regression in an athlete's results or skills, or a gap exists in the selection ranking, the Selection Committee shall consider the following. The overall team size based on the athlete-to-coach ratio, the expected World Cup quota for the upcoming competitive season, the athlete's individual pathway, past results, ranking within the selection, current world ranking, competitive skill level relative to international standards, the level of events attended, and the athlete's Elite Performance Characteristics, including but not limited to. The athlete's implementation of and commitment to their on- and off-snow training plan (including attendance at team-organized sessions, warm-ups, cool-downs, and recovery sessions); the athlete's ability to identify and actively prioritize a plan to close performance gaps and build on strengths; and the athlete's contribution to a positive, values-based team environment.
